Objective summary

Seeking a challenging software development opportunity in a dynamic where innovation, education and sense of ownership are valued and encouraged.

Work history

Plainjoe Studios - March 2015 - Present

As a Full-Stack developer I created unique websites for some of the largest churches in the United States.

Developed web-based tools that allowed administrators to configure and monitor system components.

Engaged in managing upcoming and ongoing projects, also assigning tasks to team members and reporting project status in the absence of the manager.

Awwwards Conference LA - June 2017

During the 2017 LA conference I had the privilege to volunteer with the amazing team at Awwwards. I was in charge of checking in process and encouraging networking situations.

Education

Norco College - August 2014 - Present

I am currently attending Norco College pursuing a bachelor's degree in computer science and looking forward to transfer to a 4 years university
